Janet makes her home at Reid Woods. This past year Janet began horseback riding. It is quite an accomplishment going from lying on a horse to sitting straight and reaching for objects. Congratulations Janet. Janet is not one to leave the comfort of her home. To see her leave each week to enjoy horseback riding was a significant achievement for Janet and really rewarding for the staff. We appreciate that EDCL staff do not stop encouraging people to step outside a comfort level. Janet we thank you for sharing part of your evening with us.

Tony has made a number of transitions during these past months. Tony made his home at First Street. Health issues required a stay at Grand River Hospital and when Tony left the hospital he made a smooth transition moving into the Assisted Living Centre. Life at the ACL is good.

Tony displays his achievement award

Tony has become more social, often staying out in the common area with his new housemates and he seems to be really happy. Tony stays home but will go to Life Skills on Fridays to play his harmonica for 'bad music Fridays'. Congratulations on your new home Tony.

Wayne: There are a lot of qualities that come to mind when Wayne Howes is mentioned. One in particular is his desire to keep things clean and safe. He often proudly introduced himself as "I'm Health & Safety"! Wayne has served as a member of the EDCL Health and Safety Committee since 1990. Wow! That's more than twenty years! A few years ago, when the Labour Board requested an ARC Health & Safety Committee be established, Wayne was elected by his fellow colleagues. Wayne took his position very seriously. He reminded staff, whom he assisted, to inspect the building and fire extinguishers on a monthly basis. He listed things that needed attention and passed it on to our maintenance staff. Wayne shared his enthusiasm and commitment to his job at the H & S meetings. He helped organize the Safety Smart Seminar held this past September. Wayne welcomed all the participants, gave directions as to where to go and at the end of the event handed out a token of appreciation to the guest speaker. Wayne assisted in not only keeping the building clean, but also made sure the walkway outside was clear of snow and salted. He quite often was concerned for the safety of his co-workers when they were waiting for their transportation at the end of the day and brought this up at the employee meetings. Wayne's enthusiasm and dedication to his position has always been appreciyour friendly reminders and your helping hand. You will always be our "Health & Safety". Wayne's home is the Assisted Living Centre.

Through the Person Directed Plan (PDP) process, where the family/guardian, staff and individual meet to discuss his or her future goals and plans for the upcoming year, the consensus often is improving physical health and staying active, while participating in the community.

The Woolwich Memorial Centre is a beautiful facility offering a wide variety of programs, friendly staff and new opportunities to the people we serve. Many of our participants go there on a weekly basis. They have come to know the building, procedures and the staff. We would like to acknowledge the following individuals and their accomplishments.

Jessie: Jessie has had a gym membership for a couple of years. She is the fitness queen! She goes to the gym a couple of times a week; yoga on Wednesdays and swimming on Fridays. Jessie also makes use of the walking track around the ice rink. She knows her way around the facility and enjoys her time there. Congratulations Jessie.

Trevor: Trevor also has had a gym membership for a couple of years. He goes to the fitness centre at least a couple of times a week. He arrives, swipes his membership card to sign in and has his workout routine. Trevor knows the rules in the gym about cleaning the equipment after use. He has gotten to know the friendly staff and fellow patrons. Trevor enjoys meeting people he knows from the community and is very proud to share his accomplishments. Congratulations Trevor.

Randy: Randy had to pass the swim test criteria in order to get a WMC swim pass. He is able to front swim at least 25 meters and tread water for one minute. This allows him to be independent at the pool. Randy arrives at the centre, swipes his membership card and knows his way around the facility. He looks forward to going lane swimming every Wednesday. It's a workout, but he gets to enjoy his love for water and stays fit at the same time. Congratulations Randy.

Ron: Every Thursday, Ron can be seen out delivering the Independent newspaper to community members over in the Centre Street, Elmira area. Ron was laid off from Tim Horton's last year and applied to be a newspaper carrier in the fall. He takes his responsibility very seriously, checking the subscribers each week on his list for new additions and marking off each newspaper as it is delivered. He is a diligent friendly worker, who always takes time to talk to those he meets along his route.

Jessie proudly holding up his award with Board

Congratulations Ron.

Joel: Each Thursday morning Joel takes the Elmira bus to Conestoga Mall to do a little window shopping and have a bite to eat. He is mindful of the time and checks the bus schedule at the mall to ensure his departure time. Joel rides the bus back to Elmira and arrives back at ARC in the afternoon. Joel enjoys this independence each week, not to mention the 'goodies' he purchases. Congratulations Joel.

Welcome to Enver

Enver loves to socialize

Enver came to EDCL in January 2012 after living at home with his family for the first 34 years of his life. Enver is a very active, curious man. Enver loves bowling, hockey, baseball, wrestling, going to the movies, singing, eating meals out and any opportunity to socialize with others. Enver really enjoyed the Valentine Dance and by all reports he is an awesome dancer! Enver was thrilled to take part in Special Olympics Bowling and playing floor hockey and looks forward to Special Olympics Baseball season! Enver is an excellent bowler and although he had never played floor hockey before, he was beginning to catch on pretty well before the season ended. Enver tells us he is a good ball player and he LOVES the Toronto Blue Jays! Enver's favorite pass time in his house is to take control of the remote and "flick" through the channels (I'm sure so many of you guys share this pastime!) Enver is a real joy to have around and we look forward to continue to get to know him. Thanks Enver, for choosing EDCL as your home!

Wayne Howes (September 15, 1955–April 14, 2012.)

Wayne and his famous key collection

Wayne, a resident and a friend for the past 34 years. Wayne passed away peacefully on Saturday April 14, 2012 at the Assisted Living Centre with the staff at his side. Wayne came to our Association in October 1978 and lived at Reid Woods until 1989 when he moved over to George Street, from there he moved to Flamingo Apartments in 1993 and in 2005 Wayne made his final move to the Assisted Living Centre. Wayne worked at ARC Industries since 1979 and was an active member on the Health and Safety Committee for 20 years. Wayne enjoyed his life to the fullest. He loved to collect keys and would remember which key you gave him. Wayne was very proud of every accomplishment that he made especially his car wash business “Wax n’ Wayne” and he recruited many of his co-workers to help out. A memorial service was held in his honour on Tuesday April 17, 2012 at the Assisted Living Centre. Wayne will be missed by all.

Glenn Biesinger (May 9, 1955- August 31, 2012)

Glenn with his usual great big friendly smile on his face

Glenn was born and raised in Hesson, near Listowel. He was the second youngest son of a family with nine children. Both Glenn and his younger brother Frank lived on a farm just outside of Hesson for most of their childhood. They lived on the farm until 1972, until Glenn moved with his parents and his younger brother to a house on Center St. in Elmira. In 1984 he and his brother were admitted to the Association where the two remained close, residing together until his passing in August of this year.

Glenn was always a hard worker, and took great pride in everything he did. People in the Association knew him as “the pastry chef”. He had quite the collection of cook books, and especially enjoyed baking. In addition to his skills in the kitchen, had a knack for knitting and would produce knitted blankets and covered hangers to raise money at the quilt auction every year. Even as his abilities declined, he was still eager to help out around the house any way he could.

Glenn and his brother, Frank, were both fanatical when it came to anything Elvis. The two brothers had quite the collection of memorabilia, dressed as Elvis for Halloween, enjoyed Elvis impersonation concerts throughout the years and even travelled all the way to Memphis to see where the King once lived.

Anyone who had the pleasure of knowing Glenn knows that he always wore a smile on his face, he was friendly, and loved to socialize. He was involved with his church, was close with his large family, and enjoyed the company of both staff and his peers. He knew a lot of people in the community and enjoyed being the center of attention. His happy-go-lucky attitude is greatly missed by all of his friends and family.

Mary Lorraine Kelly (August 27, 1929- February 19, 2012)

Mary was always the life of the party

Mary was admitted to the Association; moving from a nursing home in Mount Forest to Reidwoods in 1984. Little is known about Mary’s life before she joined us at the Association, however her life was filled with love and lasting friendships from the time she joined us right up until she passed. Both the staff and fellow residents acted as Mary’s family, and made sure that she was never lacking in unconditional love.

Mary was always the life of the party, and was often referred to as the Party Queen because she never needed an excuse to laugh, dance and socialize. She was always dressed the part in case an impromptu get together should arise.

Mary loved to dress well. She could often be seen in coordinating dresses, jewelry, and purses stuffed to the brim with anything from old napkins to chocolate goodies.

Everyone who came in contact with Mary Kelly instantly fell in love with her infectious laugh and her charming personality. She would affectionately call the staff “dear” when she didn’t know their names. Mary Kelly is deeply missed by her EDCL “family”. She will always be in our hearts.

Celebrating Kitchener's 100th Birthday

Submitted by Reid Woods
Staff Member

Reid Woods staff and residents joined thousands of people in downtown Kitchener on Sunday, July 15 to sit down and be counted as they launched in celebration of Kitchener's 100th anniversary. This was an attempt to break the world record for longest picnic table in the world.

Side by Side, a Celebration of Visual Arts

Frank participated in the "Side By Side" art show and sale. His painting drew a lot of attention and he was genuinely proud and flattered by all the positive feedback he received

Our artist Frank (ALC) had his creation on display at Café Pyrus on Wednesday May 16, 2012. The proceeds from the event went to support Planned Lifetime Networks. Frank had a great night. Congratulations Frankie on your success!

Frank participated in the "Side By Side" art show and sale, which was a fundraiser and social event for PLN (Planned Lifetime Networks) an organization that builds friendship networks for community members who might otherwise be isolated by their disability.

The event was a huge success and a ton of people turned out to view the very diverse selection of art that was on display and to support this good cause through the purchase of pieces of art and jewelry that were for sale.

Frank had a wonderful time! His painting drew a lot of attention and he was genuinely proud and flattered by all the positive feedback he received. He was also very social and had no trouble with the ladies he met. It was interesting to see Frank's reaction to all of the other paintings that were on display. he seemed to really appreciate and enjoy the show. Frank also found a necklace that he just had to have ... and when I pointed out that it was probably a little "girly" he informed me it was for Rachel J. It was a great evening and we made some connections that we can hopefully utilize in the future to give opportunity for Frank to pursue his creative interests.

The Ladies from Raising Mill Gate

Written by Christine

The ladies from Raising Mill Gate

“We invite you to share the lives of the Ladies of Raising Mill Gate”

The Ladies who have made Raising Mill Gate their home was the feature for the October 13th, 2011 membership meeting. The ladies presentation was wonderful. We invite you to enjoy this journey into their lives.

Raising Mill Gate, or RMG, as it is known, is a group home for 6 ladies: Lori, Bevis, Barb, Elizabeth, Heather and Ann. Each lady has a bedroom of their own and decorated with their own personal flare. We have four bedrooms upstairs and both Ann and Heather (your greeters for the evening) have their bedrooms downstairs.

Monday – Friday; all ladies go to Arc from 8:30 – 3:30. Elizabeth participates in the Avenues program. All the other ladies work on different contracts according to their skills.

When they come home from work, everyone takes turns to make their lunch for the next day of work. While Karen is supervising the lunch making, she is also cooking up a storm in the kitchen. Raising Mill Gate is very fortunate to have such an amazing cook as part of the team. Needless to say, everyone at Raising Mill Gate is well fed and nourished. Along with having individual evenings for doing their laundry, or if they desire helping out with looking after their home, the ladies have many activities they can participate in on an on-going basis – Friendship Club, Bowling, Church, Baseball, visiting or going for walks with friends, library trips and of course “Stinky Movie Night”. End of the work week, the ladies are ready to sit back, forget about baths, put their feet up and relax with a good movie. Staff is also able to sit down and laugh or cry at the movie along with the ladies. It is a good time for socializing and forgetting about all the “things” that need to be done. Of course what would a movie night be without the chocolate milk and popcorn?

Tuesday evening is the night we like to keep open for our birthday suppers. When someone has a birthday, they will choose which restaurant to eat at and off we go for an evening of no cooking or dishes. Of course as it is a birthday celebration, dessert has to be ordered! This is a great evening of socializing around the table and then coming home for the birthday girl to open her presents and a round of “Happy Birthday” song.

Week-ends are for extra activities. This could include going out to a movie, Mapleton Ice Cream Farm, bike rides, Brantford Zoo...the list is open to all possibilities. A couple of times during the year, we have different church groups come in to sing. Music is a passion for most of the ladies. You could hear anything from ABBA to Elvis to Country Gospel. It is amazing how the ladies know the words to most of the songs. Some staff also bring in their guitars and have a singing night with the ladies.

One of the highlights of the year is the Raising Mill Gate Christmas Party. We move the living room furniture to the garage and set up tables for 30 – 40 people. The ladies invite their family members or special friends. The evening starts off with appetizers and visiting downstairs while Karen is busy upstairs putting the last minutes details of our supper together. We then move to the upstairs dining area for an amazing meal and fellowship. It is a very small way that we say “thank-you” to the people who contribute to the lives of everyone at Raising Mill Gate.

This past summer, all the ladies of RMG, Karen and I spent a week at a cottage near Halliburton. What a relaxing time. There was a beautiful view of the lake from the deck. The sunsets were amazing! Heather, Ann and I spent time down at the lake swimming and going out on the paddle-boat. One of the favourite activities was sleeping in (for staff too of course!) This sleeping in was needed as we found out that being up at 4:00 in the morning due to giggling coming from the bedrooms can make you very tired!!

All of Raising Mill Gate was also very privileged in being able

Barb shares everything she loves to participate in Trisha's, one of our staff members', wedding in September of 2010. Once the meal was over and the music started, the ladies were out on the dance floor. I think they stole part of the show from the bride! The ladies made many friends that evening with their friendly cheerful personalities. We reluctantly left that evening in enough time to be back before the night staff showed up and wondered where we were!

As in any family, the unit of Raising Mill Gate has good and bad days. If there are any arguments, they are soon over with "I Love You's", hugs and carrying on like true sisters.

At Raising Mill Gate, we are very fortunate that we have two PCM's (primary case managers) Karen and Christine; both work to 11 p.m. This allows Karen or Christine to work a day shift with the ladies to allow them to sleep in and have a day off work to shop or just have one-on-one time. Then the other PCM will work the evening with them. Anne is our overnight staff and works Sunday to Thursday evenings. She has been with the association for more than 15 years but has been with Raising Mill Gate for about two years.

Our weekend staff is pretty consistent: Melissa, who also filled in as personal support worker while Karen was off two different times for knee surgery; Trisha – who did the amazing job on the scrapbooks; Sarah – Sunday staff and does all the driving for church; Katelyn who does a lot of overnight and some evenings and is a great guitar player. Some of the other part-time staff are: Courtney is who is attending school to become a nurse – and is always willing to share this knowledge when questions arise, Susan – always willing to give the ladies a listening ear. Gabrielle – also works/lives at Snow Goose.

We would like to thank all the Board Members and volunteers for the work you do "behind the scenes". We hope with this presentation it will put a face as to why you selflessly donate your time and energy to be a Board Member. All the work you do does create a better world for the ladies at Raising Mill Gate.

Lori shares her interests and what she loves

Music is a passion for most of the ladies. You could hear anything from ABBA to Elvis to Country Gospel. It is amazing how the ladies know the words to most of the songs.

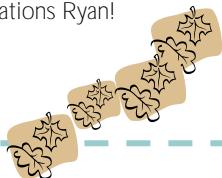

Congratulations Ryan

Ryan was successful in passing his G1 drivers test and recently received his G1 driver's licence. Ryan was determined to get his licence and drive on his own around town and on the highways. He persevered until he passed the road test. Congratulations Ryan!

Greeters of the 2012 Membership Meeting

The evening of April 5th, 2012, Ruth and Andrea greeted fifty people.

Ruth: I moved to Riverside on March 3, 2005, on my birthday. I enjoy being active in my church and community and attend St. James Lutheran with anything that they need to have done. I like to be a good neighbour and friend, by going next door to rake her pine needles and cones to help her out. I collect all my newspapers and take them next door to the chick hatchery. Some of my favourite past times are; bowling, swimming, walking, floor hockey and baseball. Having the GRT in Elmira is great ... since I love to go to the mall on the week-ends.

Ruth greeting the members as they arrive

Church weekly; I belong to both ELV and TNT group. I enjoy volunteering at the church for different functions and also every Tuesday I volunteer at Frey Flowers and really like the people I work with. Each year I volunteer at the maple syrup festival and often volunteer my time at the local stores offering to help Andrea: On October 13th, 2007, I moved from my mother's home in Drayton to Elmira. I really enjoy living in my own apartment and enjoy the independence it gives me. My favourite pastimes are; swimming, walking, bowling, spending time with friends and visiting my Mom in Mitchell. I love to take care of the cats in my apartment building and also take my favourite dog for walks. Every year I spend a lot of my free time making ribbons; which I sell as a fundraiser for epilepsy research. The local shops, such as No Frills, Home Hardware and through my local church are great places to sell them. The money raised is donated to the London Health Centre for epilepsy research. Hope this is okay. Elmira District Community Living board members, managers and employees were recognized and welcomed. We enjoyed the presentations featuring the Independent Living Support people: Ruth, Andrea, Fern, John, Ryan, Andrew and Paul. Great work everyone!! Thanks to Lisa and Alanna for your assistance with the feature.

The agenda was minimum on business and maximum with friendship. The fellowship that followed provided a wonderful opportunity for conversations shared by all.

A special thank you is extended to the managers and staff for submitting the people's accomplishments for the achievement awards. Congratulations on your personal achievements: Janet, Tony, Wayne, Jessie, Trevor, Randy, Ron and Joel.
